Former Resident To Preach Sunday At Baptist Church

REV. KENNETH L. GARRISON

A former resident of this city who has served the ministry since 1939 will be the fourth and concluding guest preacher at First Baptist Church, Broadway at Albany avenue, Sunday at 10 a. m.

He is the Rev. Kenneth Lloyd Garrison, son of F. Leslie Garrison, 154 Fair street, who is now minister of the Baptist Church of Brookline, Mass., where he has served since 1952.

The Rev. Mr. Garrison, due to an overwhelming request, will preach on the theme "The Cathedral of My Soul."

Guest organizer for the service will be Mrs. William E. Rylance while Mrs. Harry Legg will be the guest soloist. A junior church program for children up to 10 years of age will be conducted during the worship hour.

Born in Haines Falls
The Rev. Mr. Garrison, a native of Haines Falls, began his ministry in 1939 and continued in his first church in First Welsh Baptist Church, Taylor, Pa., until 1943. He was pastor of the Harbor Baptist Church, Harbor, Pa., from 1943 until 1948 and then at First Baptist Church, Waterville, Me., from 1948 until 1952 when he accepted a call to become minister of the Baptist Church of Brookline.

After graduation from Kingston High School, he received further schooling at Georgetown College, Ky., Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester Pa., University of Pennsylvania and Temple University for graduate work in psychology and education. He received a doctor's degree of oratory earlier this year from Staley College.

Active in Civic Work
While ministering to the Brookline Baptist Church, of which the Rev. Samuel Maccaulay Lindsay was pastor for 30 years, the Rev. Mr. Garrison has been busily engaged in civic work in the Brookline and Boston areas where he has been in heavy demand as a lecturer. His wife, the former Miss Emily M. Rogers, daughter of Mrs. Mary Rogers of Taylor, Pa., also has led an active role in the civic life in the Boston area. They have a daughter, Emily Diane, who was born in 1944.

Among these have been: Director of the Boston Baptist Bethel City Mission Society, Northern Baptist Education Society, New England Baptist Youth Conference, Ocean Park, Me., chairman of the Rotary Club of Brookline, chairman of Beth-horon Lodge, Masons, Brookline; chairman of the examination committee of Andover-Newton Theological School and director of both the Massachusetts Baptist Home and the General Theological Library.

Next Sunday, Aug. 4, the Rev. Harold J. Stephanz, pastor, who has been on vacation during July, will return to the pulpit. Summer services will continue at the 10 a. m. hour until the Sunday after Labor Day.

Clinton Avenue Church To Hear Rev. Killinder
The Rev. Herbert Killinder of Ulster Park, former pastor of Trinity Methodist Church and the Flatbush Reformed Church, will be the guest preacher at the 10 o'clock Sunday service at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church.

The topic of his sermon will be "Jesus Came Preaching."

Religious Radio Programs
Cooperating with Station WKNY and presented as a public service, the following programs of Christian faith and life will be broadcast during the coming week, under the sponsorship of the Kingston Area Ministerial Association: Sunday, 10:45 a. m., "Let There Be Light," a transcribed production of the Broadcasting and Film Commission of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.; 11 a. m., morning service of worship from Trinity Methodist Church, with sermon by the minister, the Rev. Ralph E. Hughes; 9:15 p. m., Church World News, a weekly summary of events in the world of religion. Each day, except Sunday, 8:55 a. m., Morning Chapel, a brief devotional program, to be conducted by the following ministers as indicated: Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, the Rev. Ralph E. Hughes, minister of Trinity Methodist Church; Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church.

Help for Travelers
New York (AP)—An airport ministry helping families leaving for the United States has been set up at Puerto Rico's International Airport. From behind a glass booth, Osvaldo Carlo explains U. S. currency and gives the departing Puerto Ricans a folder telling them what churches in many U. S. cities are ready to welcome them. Carlo is employed by the Evangelical Council of Churches of Puerto Rico.

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

THE UNFOUNDED FOUNTAIN

These lines are being written on the seashore at Ormond Beach on the west coast of Florida—about six miles north of the famous Daytona Beach. While making a tour of historic St. Augustine, a couple of days ago, we passed by the gates inside of which is supposed to be that well-known Fountain of Youth which Ponce de Leon is said to have discovered. We did not enter the gates to view the Fountain because they wanted nearly a dollar to see what we all know is a fake.

What we did in passing up the sight of that Fountain for a trivial monetary reason is a symbol of the actualities of life. For the Fountain of Youth is an unfounded fountain. An all-wise Creator hid that miraculous pool of bubbling water from probing human eyes. All quests that have as their aim the search for the secret either of keeping youth, or of finding it again, once it has flown, are doomed to failure before they begin. The calendar is as resistant as the tide. Seniors or later in the physical part of us wears out. Science has discovered ways of setting up a delaying action. But nothing can prevent the eventual loss of youth—or provide for its recovery, once it is gone.

Most of us, I suppose, when the years begin to take their toll do a little dreaming, now and then, about what it would be like if that Fountain could be found. Like many of the other blessings of life, we never really appreciate youth until it begins to dawn upon us that we don't have it any more. Losses often bestow perspectives of appreciation that were not there while the blessing was still with us. Those who sit in rocking chairs have far sharper eyes for seeing the glories of youth than do those in whose veins pulse the exhaustless energies of young blood. George Bernard Shaw used to question a little the wisdom of the Creator—a thing not at all unusual for Shaw—in arranging life so that a precious asset like youth should be wasted upon those who have not yet acquired the perspective to appreciate it.

Be that as it may, the facts are that we journey through this world without ever finding that Fountain. We must adjust ourselves to the adventure of life on this planet where neither the retaining nor the recovery of youth are possibilities. It is possible, however, to keep young in spirit. When the calendar begins to alert us to the fact that it would be nice if we could find that Fountain; we can, at least, strive to retain the youthful heart and mind. If we cannot, in all honesty, say with Robert Browning: "Grow old along with me, / The best is yet to be," we can, at least, try to remember how wonderful it was to be young; and to adjust ourselves creatively to the periods of life that follow in sure succession. The very worst kind of spirit is one which spends the later years grumbling because the Fountain of Youth cannot be found.

It is one of the sure marks of successful living when we can keep our faith in God, and the youthful spirit which is nourished by it, through all the many changes that are wrought by the passing of the years.

Health for All

WHEN YOU DRINK
You knew it all the time, but science has finally tested and proved it. People behave differently when they drink.

Strictly for scientific purposes, the Yale University Center of Alcohol Studies threw a couple of parties. One was for hard drinkers—derelicts from Skid Row. They didn't have a good time. They just sat there and drank until they fell to the floor, one by one. The other party was for a group of teachers. A couple of cocktails and the pedagogues were joking, laughing, slapping each other on the back. It was a great party.

Stupid or tipsy, however, they all had the same concentration of alcohol in the blood on the same number of drinks. And they responded pretty much alike to tests of the speed of their reactions.

Another thing you knew that has now been proved scientifically is the fact that you "feel" your drinks more if you haven't had anything to eat. Food in the digestive system slows down the absorption of alcohol and the liver has time to oxidize it. The liver can handle only three quarters of an ounce of alcohol in an hour. So spreading your drinks out over a long time helps, too.

The Yale researchers figure that if you take 60 minutes to drink half a highball or three quarters of a can of beer, you could conceivably drink 24 hours a day without getting tight. Adding water to your drink won't speed it up. It's the carbonation in champagne that makes it "go to your head" so fast.

The Yale experiments have shown that a small amount of alcohol calms the nerves and eases tensions. But while it lowers tensions, it also lowers skills—driving skills, for instance. Tests showed that after two or three cocktails or highballs we all react more slowly to the flash of a light or the ring of a bell. We can't do tasks such as typing, memorizing, or sorting cards as well as usual. But, since the alcohol depresses the center of judgment, we think we can do everything better. That's the

To Hear Guest At Presbyterian Church Services

The guest preacher at the service of worship in First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street and Tremper avenue, Sunday 9 a. m. will be the Rev. Richard B. Norton, Presbyterian missionary on furlough from Japan.

His sermon is to be "The Witnessing Church," and Mrs. Roberta Gaddis, contralto, accompanied by Miss Edna Merriewh, organist and choir director, will sing a selected solo.

Lives in Marlboro
The Rev. Mr. Norton comes from Marlboro, where he was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. He is a graduate of the University of Dubuque and on graduation from Princeton Theological Seminary, he was ordained by the Presbytery of North River in his home church. He has done advanced study at Yale University in Far Eastern Culture, and during a furlough received his master's degree from Princeton University. While on his present furlough he has been studying at Union Seminary, New York, for advanced credit.

For the past five years the Rev. Mr. Norton's ministry has been at Limorino, a small village 30 miles from Kobe, Japan.

Prior service in Hangchow, China, and in Bangkok, Thailand, where the Rev. Mr. Norton carried on similar service, plus some university teaching, have given him a broad perspective and experience in developing the most successful tools for this form of Christian work.

During the absence of the Rev. William J. McVey, minister of the local church, from his pulpit in August and the first two Sundays in September, the following guest preachers are scheduled to officiate in the services, which will be at 9 o'clock in August, and 11 o'clock, in September: August 4 and 25, and Sept. 1 and 8, the preacher will be the Rev. Dr. William B. Green, formerly of the Department of Religion at Lafayette College, and now engaged to take office in September as assistant chaplain and instructor of religion at Vassar College.

Former Area Pastor

August 11 it will be the Rev. C. John Westhof, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Edmond, Okla. and former pastor of the Reformed Churches of Blue Mountain and Katsbaan. August 18, the Rev. Dr. Robert H. Bonthuis, chaplain and professor of religion at Vassar College. On behalf of the session and congregation a cordial invitation is extended to the public to hear these inspiring preachers of the Gospel.

Next Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. McVey are to leave Idlewild airport for an extended tour of the British Isles and Europe, visiting his sisters in Belfast, Northern Ireland, and a brother near London, England. They will fly to Amsterdam, Brussels, Paris, Geneva, Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan, Zurich, Stuttgart, and Copenhagen, from which point the return journey across the Atlantic will be made.

Katrine Family Gospel Service Scheduled Sunday

The Family Gospel Hour will be held Sunday 6 p. m. at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall, off Route 9W just north of Kingston.

The Family Gospel Hour consists of two services, one for children in the lower auditorium, and one for adults in the upper auditorium.

To Show Film

In the service for adults, a color filmstrip "Fish Out of Water" will be shown. This filmstrip produced by the Moody Institute of Science, shows how the intricate spawning habits of a tiny fish, the grunion, bear eloquent testimony to the creative power of Almighty God. The Bible message to be delivered by the Rev. Scott E. Vining is entitled "Lord Nero or Lord Jesus?"

For children there will be a flannelgraph story "A Ruler Meets Jesus." For the handwork project the children will construct a paper-craft scene of "The Man Who Came to Jesus by Night." An object lesson, using a walnut, will show the need for faith in God.

The Family Gospel Hour is an interdenominational, community project. Everyone is welcome. There are fewer men than women in the United States.

ADIRONDACK TRANSIT LINES

Attorneys Sue Astor Mainly in Marital Mixups

New York, July 27 (AP)—John Jacob Astor's former attorneys are suing him for $107,000. They claim he owes them that much for legal services, primarily those involving marital difficulties with his last two wives.

The suit was filed yesterday by the law firm of Lewis & Macdonald.

Three times Astor has sought unsuccessfully to have the State Supreme Court tell him to which of his last two wives he is legally married.

Mrs. Gertrude Gretsche Astor won a separation from him in New York. At the same time he is paying $1,000 a month to Dolores (Dolly) Fullman Astor in Florida.

'Lone Ranger' Wrong

Durham, N. C., July 27 (AP)—The "Lone Ranger" is on the wrong side of the law here.

The state highway patrol said Clayton Moore, TV's western hero, was arrested last night on charges of speeding—not on Silver, but in a car hitting 70 miles an hour on his way to a Raleigh appearance.

Police said Moore indicated he would send a check rather than appear in court next Thursday.

Racial Bias Claimed

Toronto, July 27 (AP)—A Negro minister said today he and his family were refused accommodation in 25 apartment houses here because of their color. The Rev. Mr. George Williams, pastor of the Community Progressive Baptist Church, complained to the Toronto Labor Committee for Human Rights that he has been unable to rent a two-bedroom apartment after trying for months. The Williams have a 4-year-old son.

Card of Thanks

Deeming it impossible to thank all in person, we wish to take this means to sincerely thank all those, who by their many beautiful floral offerings, spiritual bouquets and kind words of sympathy during our recent bereavement paid a lasting tribute to our beloved son and brother, Dr. Sam Z. Maroon.

Japanese Protest

Reds' Shutdown Order

Tokyo, July 27 (AP)—The Foreign Office said today Japan has protested Russia's closing of most of Vladivostok Bay to foreign ships and planes and will not be bound by the order. The Foreign Office said a note delivered in Moscow informed the Soviets the order was "a violation of the general principle of international law and therefore illegal."

"For that reason," the announcement went on, "the Japanese government declares it will not be bound by the present measure and will reserve all rights on the problem."

Kyodo news service, in a dispatch from its Moscow correspondent, said Japan also demanded the release of Japanese fishermen seized by the Soviets in international waters.

CIO-AFL Merger

In State Hits Snag

Lake Placid, N. Y., July 27 (AP)—Cracks appeared today in merger plans of the State CIO and AFL.

CIO officials say a resolution adopted this week by the State Federation of Labor will only delay agreement.

Last night, an official of the State Federation of Labor conceded that the resolution might hold up the merger.

The resolution said no merger with the state CIO should be approved unless "it clearly and unmistakably recognizes all jurisdiction rights of the building trades and all other crafts and trades."

The CIO executive board which met here yesterday, wants a prompt merger "without any strings attached."

Argentine Campaign Ends

Buenos Aires, July 27 (AP)—Argentina's liveliest political campaign in more than a decade ended today with a final flurry of denunciations and victory predictions. Tomorrow the nation's voters will elect a constituent Assembly to take up the job of rewriting the constitution of 1853. The provisional government of President Pedro Aramburu—which threw out the Peron-written constitution of 1949—says the Assembly's main task will be to limit the executive's powers and specifically to prevent the president from running for reelection. That would do away with a provision that ousted President Juan Peron put in so he could succeed himself.

Ask UTW Probe

Washington, July 27 (AP)—Senate rackets probes today asked the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service to look into the activities of the top two officials of the United Textile Workers Union (UTW). The special Senate committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) wound up its investigation yesterday with demands by a committee member that UTW President Anthony Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klenert resign.

DIED

BARRINGER—At Albany, N. Y., July 26, 1957, Janet Sue, infant daughter of Donald and Florence Cossano Barringer.

Funeral at the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl Street, Kingston, on Monday at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment in the Lloyd Cemetery at Lloyd, N. Y. Friends may call at the parlors on Sunday evening between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock.

Ailing Young Skelton Cheerful in Paris

Barcelona, Spain, July 27 (AP)—Ailing young Richard Skelton went to Paris today with his folks, apparently as bright and cheerful as when he arrived two days ago.

And his appetite was good. The 9-year-old boy, his parents and sister Valentina breakfasted in the hotel dining room just before leaving for the airport. Richard consumed two glasses of orange juice, three scrambled eggs, a plateful of buttered toast and two cups of coffee.

Richard is suffering from a blood ailment which doctors say is incurable. His father, comedian Red Skelton, is trying to show him as much of the world as possible in the time he has.

At breakfast, the elder Skelton told newsmen the family intends to spend four days in Paris and, if time permits, pay a short visit to Brussels. Then they plan a five-day visit in London and a short tour of Scotland before going to Ireland to catch a plane back to Los Angeles.

assistance. He said that a large pumper would be supplied by the highway department.

No Rain in Sight

No substantial rains are in sight for the next four days, according to the weather bureau. Milk production is reported dropping and crop losses are in the millions.

Councilman Herman Sandy of Highland said the pipe would bring water from a reservoir recently used only for swimming. The reservoir will be closed to swimmers and the water chlorinated.

He said there was still about 26 days supply of water left in existing facilities.

The Halem Valley State Hospital yesterday reported it had only about four days' supply of water in its regular facilities. The hospital was granted the loan of three miles of eight-inch steel pipe and equipment to pump water from Ten Mile river.

The hospital director, Dr. Leo O'Donnell, said the institution was sending its laundry elsewhere and had cut down on baths as part of a water conservation program.

10 Days' Supply Left

The city of Hudson, with a population of more than 11,500, was granted a loan of 800 feet of pipe to pump an emergency supply from the Hudson river. The city reported about 10 days' supply remained in the reservoir. Severe restrictions have been placed on use of water.

The pumping equipment is federal civil defense property. The loan was approved by federal authorities, Harriman's office said.

City officials at Hudson said they were experimenting with the use of alum to clear sludge that made a part of the water in the city's main reservoir unusable.

If the method fails, the water supply will be down to eight or nine days' supply.

The sludge would jam the filter system.

Emergency Is Declared in Massachusetts

Boston, July 27 (AP)—A state of emergency existed in Massachusetts today due to prolonged drought that has brought some farmers to the brink of financial disaster.

Gov. Foster Furcolo declared the emergency yesterday and appealed to President Eisenhower to declare the state a major disaster area so that farmers would be entitled to federal assistance. Agricultural spokesmen have estimated crop damage at more than 10 million dollars.

The governor signed the emergency proclamation just before the first substantial rainfall since mid-April fell on the southeast section of the state.

Coincides With Prayer

The rain coincided with a "day of prayer" suggested by Furcolo to ask divine intervention to end the drought. Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, Catholic archbishop of Boston, had directed priests in his diocese to recite a prayer for rain in their daily Masses.

Wareham, Mattapoisett, Free-town, Middleboro, all of Cape Cod and adjacent areas reported "good downpours."

Scattered rainstorms pelted most sections of parched Plymouth and Bristol counties where Lexington rainmaker Dr. Wallace E. Howell has concentrated his cloud seeding.

Dr. Howell, hired by the state to induce rain, said he presumed, "our rainmaking efforts helped to boost the output."

Scattered areas of Rhode Island also had a hard hit by the drought, receiving up to three inches of rain. Washouts and flooded intersections were reported in Warwick, West Warwick and East Greenwich.

At the Quonset Point, R. I., Naval Air Station 3.10 inches of rain was recorded.

Police Corral Family

Of Narcotic Sellers

New York, July 27 (AP)—Police have finished rounding up what they call the most industrious dope selling family in America.

They arrested during the night two brothers and the wife of one, and said another brother, his wife, and the mother of the brothers, previously arrested, have been sent to jail for selling narcotics.

Police said Augustine Carmona, 28, of 815 East 166th Street, the Bronx, picked up last night, did a $200,000 a year business in narcotics.

They said he was arrested while making a sale of two ounces of heroin for $235 while sitting in his automobile. Arrested with him was his brother, Arcadio, of the same Bronx address.

UNSINKABLE—One ferry that won't sink is the Burgh Island Ferry in Devon, England. Passengers ride on a covered platform built on stilts attached to tractor-style "caterpillar" wheels, which ride along the sea floor. The engine is set on the platform with the passengers and operates the tracks by means of chains. The ferry runs from the resort spot of Bigbury-On-Sea out to nearby Burgh Island—but always keeps its "feet" on the ground.

Business News Briefs

New York, July 27 (AP)—Standard & Poor's Corp., a market research and fact finding organization, says it expects domestic cigarette consumption this year to rise to a record 405 billion units, or three per cent above the 1956 figure.

"Principal factors in the improvement," the firm says, "are a projected four per cent increase in consumer disposable income and a broadening of the cigarette consuming market."

The gain in dollar volume, Standard and Poor's adds, will be one to two per cent greater than the unit increase due to the recent increase in the price of nonfilter smokes.

New York, (AP)—Shipments of fabricated structural steel in June were 329,256 tons, only slightly under the record tonnage of 329,626 shipped to construction sites in May, the American Institute of Steel Construction announced today. Bookings, however, dropped to 220,050 tons at the end of June from 291,750 tons on the books at the end of May.

New York, (AP)—The Sun Glass Institute said today sales of American made sun glasses in this country are going this year at an annual of "right around" the hundred million dollar mark and if sales of foreign made sun glasses are included retail sales in 1957 would probably exceed that figure. Thus far sales have been at a record high, running about 20 per cent above those in 1956, the institute said.

New York, (AP)—Harry W. Von

Miller, president of the Erie Railroad has been elected a director of Railway Express Agency, succeeding Paul W. Johnson, chairman of Erie. It was announced by A. L. Hammell, president of the express agency.

New York, (AP)—Pan American World Airways carried a record total of 4,424,000 pounds of cargo across the Atlantic in the first six months of this year, an increase of 11 per cent over tonnage transported in the first half of 1956 and greater than that carried by any other international airline, the carrier announced today. The firm uses 12 all-cargo and 146 passenger-cargo transatlantic flights each week to and from 27 cities in Europe.

New York, (AP)—Corporate financing in the first half of 1957 reached a total of $7,627,457,999 compared with $6,607,532,121 in the first half of 1956, the Investment Dealers Digest says in its half-year compilation to be released on Monday.

Of the total this year, $5,207,791,030 represented publicly offered securities and $2,419,666,969 invested private placements, the digest records indicate. In the first half of 1956 the respective categories were $3,838,601,312 in public flotations and $2,767,950,809 in private deals. In addition to this domestic financing, total of $198,272,000 in obligations of foreign governments were registered with the Securities & Exchange Commission in the first half of 1957 and sold publicly by U. S. investment bankers.

Margaret Tierney Injured in Mishap

Miss Margaret Tierney, 60, of 98 St. James Street, was injured Friday afternoon when the taxi in which she was riding was in collision with another car in the Benedictine Hospital parking lot, police reported.

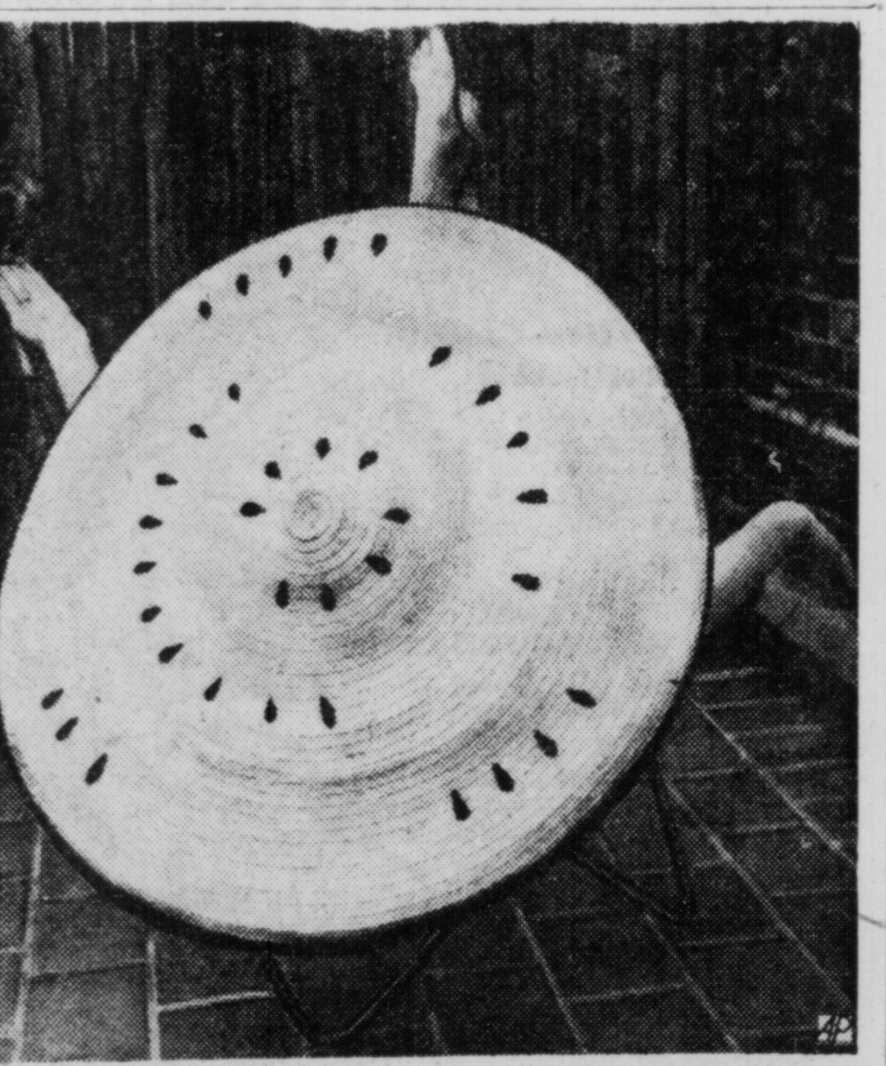

Officers Ira Hadsel and Anthony Turck said Miss Tierney, who suffered injuries to her right arm and chest, was treated at the hospital.

A police report at 4:01 p. m. said a 1957 sedan, operated by Donald DeGroat, 25 of 87 Fair Street, owned by Robert Norton, Central Taxi, of 468 Broadway, was headed north in the parking lot. It was in collision with a 1950 sedan, owned and operated by Harry Kushner, 47, of 28 Stuyvesant Street, who, police said, was traveling west on Mary's avenue and turning left into the parking lot.

The taxi was damaged on the right front fender, light and bumper, and the Kushner vehicle on the left front fender, headlight, grill and bumper, police reported.

Accident Victim Dies

Utica, N. Y., July 27 (AP)—Earl Owens, 59, of West Winfield, died in a hospital today of injuries suffered July 11 when his automobile and another collided here.

British Hopeful Attacks to End Rebel Revolts

Sharja, Trucial Oman, July 27 (AP)—The British hopefully looked for signs today that three Royal Air Force attacks have frightened Oman rebels into ending their revolt.

Instead of blasting rebel strongholds with cannon and rockets as they did Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the RAF dropped leaflets over dissident areas. Flying only 500 feet high, four transport planes—scattered the leaflets over rugged mountainous areas roughly 50 by 100 miles in area.

An RAF spokesman said the leaflets called on Omanis to throw their support behind Said Bin Taimur, the sultan of Muscat and Oman, and for the rebels to give up.

Although the RAF temporarily suspended air operations against the dissidents, it was made clear at this RAF base that they "are pretty well bound to be resumed in a few days" if the rebels fail to give some concrete signs that this peculiar war is over.

Board May . . .

case, possibly at the meeting this weekend.

Appointment of new patrolmen from a list of only three available men was deferred by the board at a meeting Wednesday pending further study, but a decision on that list may be forthcoming at the next meeting.

Await Final Results

It was learned yesterday consideration is to be given possible reinstatement "if any" of patrolmen now under suspension, but nothing will be done in that direction, Mayor Stang said, until "all is clarified," in conjunction with the present probe of the police department.

The board also deferred action on a promotional appointment to the position of deputy chief, which is not considered as essential as the naming of new patrolmen at this time.

Force Is Short

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren has indicated that the department could use at least 10 more than the approximately 40 men on patrol duty, and with 10 more lost, at least temporarily, pending the outcome of the investigation, the board is faced with the task of naming both regular and special patrolmen at the earliest possible date.

An eligibility list of six names was submitted to the board by the Municipal Civil Service Commission, but they contained the names of a patrolman under suspension, a man charged with burglary, and another who has indicated that he will not accept appointment.

Special Officer Bruce Clarke, 24, of 222 Elmendorf Street, who is among the officers under suspension for failure to sign waivers of immunity in conjunction with the probe, was top man on the list with a rating of 99.44 in the civil service test.

Also on the list was Edward Bankevich, 25, of 95 Green Street, who was arrested July 10 with Special Officer Gerard McCleskey, 29, of 40 Condie Street, and Joseph Keller, 23, of 512 Delaware Avenue, a regular patrolman, on charges of burglary dating back to an alleged theft at the Montgomery Ward store last May 11.

The third patrolman arrested was Robert FitzGibbon, 24, of Colonial Gardens, a former special officer, who has been relieved of duties pending investigation of "irregularities." He was arrested on a bench warrant Wednesday afternoon, charged with third degree burglary and unlawful entry. The charge resulted of an investigation separate from that involving the other officers.

On the civil service list, and uninterested in appointment, was George P. Norton Jr., sixth ward alderman, of 35 Newkirk Avenue.

Three Names Now

This leaves the police board with the names of three, Leon Fitzgerald, 613 Broadway, Joseph Levenenz, of 101 Elmendorf Street, and Frank Stip, of 38 Pine Grove Avenue, who are due for appointment.

The original list contained eight names, but two withdrew their names before it was submitted to the police board.

The board is expected to act in the near future on the permanent appointment of a deputy police chief.

Both Robert F. Murphy, who is now acting deputy chief and Lt. William H. Messing, have qualified for the position through a civil service test earlier this year.

It was noted in submitting the list for appointment of patrolmen that the names of the officers under suspension and of the man charged with burglary, must necessarily be forwarded for consideration in view of the fact that no conclusive action has been taken against them.

Hiker Still Serious From Fall Injuries

The condition of Joseph Margolin, 14, of 1755 East 27th Street, Brooklyn, who has been staying at Camp Hurley in the West Hurley area and who was injured Friday while hiking, was reported "still serious" today at Benedictine Hospital.

Young Margolin suffered injuries in a fall while hiking with a group yesterday. Efforts to learn full details of the mishap were unavailing, but it was indicated that he fell or tumbled about 30 feet down a slope or cliff.

He is under treatment for multiple head and body injuries and possible internal injuries.

Widow, 74, Paralyzed; 8 Days in Bathub

San Francisco, July 27 (AP)—Mrs. Betty Schardt was reported gaining back her strength today in French Hospital following her eight-day ordeal of being trapped in a bathtub.

The 74-year-old widow was found Thursday night after neighbors, noticing a stack of newspapers on her doorstep, called police. She had fallen paralyzed into the empty bathtub, but her cries for help were drowned out by a blaring television set.

Hospital attendants said her condition was "surprisingly good."

Federal School

wanted, it was represented as being acceptable to him. Yesterday, a White House spokesman said Eisenhower had expressed "great disappointment" at the House action.

Had a majority of Republicans not voted to kill the bill, the House would have had an opportunity to vote on a compromise measure almost word-for-word what the President wanted.

The actual vote, for killing the bill, 111 Republicans and 97 Democrats, against killing it, 77 Republicans and 126 Democrats.

Republicans generally discount the potency of the school bill vote as a political issue. Some of their political strategists believe the taxpayers aren't in favor of the legislation and consider school construction a local responsibility.

Last year's election results support their position. The House killed a similar school measure in 1956 with a majority of Republicans opposing the bill and a majority of Democrats supporting it.

In the elections that followed, Republicans had a net loss of two House seats. They claim the school was not the dominant issue in any district.

The 1958 elections will be decided mainly on local issues, Republicans believe, since there is no presidential contest. In no districts now represented by GOP congressmen is federal school-aid an issue, Republicans maintain.

Democrats hope to change that situation and force the issue wherever they believe it might help the Democratic cause.

"The breakdown of the roll-call of both parties on this (school) bill is very interesting," said House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts. "It should be interesting to the people of the country."

FBI Discovers

The blast ripped open the side of a Western Airlines twin-engine Convair early Thursday morning as it winged between Las Vegas, Nev., and Los Angeles at 10,000 feet.

Binstock, who was in the plane washroom, disappeared.

The Convair made an emergency landing at an air force base. The plane's other 12 passengers and crew of three were uninjured.

Took Out Insurance

Before leaving Lockheed airport in Los Angeles for Las Vegas Wednesday night Binstock purchased $125,000 worth of round-trip flight insurance.

Some experts believe the blast was touched off by some explosive device, but they admit they have no proof as yet. Another theory is that a gunshot may have caused an explosive decompression that broke open the fuselage.

Earlier, a wash basin from the plane's lavatory was found with a fine spray of bloodstains on it. "It looked as if it had been put on with a spray gun," one official said.

Meanwhile, investigators from the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) and the Federal Bureau of Investigation examined the pieces of plane fuselage in hopes of finding the cause of the blast.

Among the CAB men on the scene was J. F. Paul, structural specialist who helped piece together the United Airlines plane that exploded over Colorado with 44 deaths two years ago.

John G. Graham, 23, later admitted he used 25 sticks of dynamite to blow up the plane to murder his mother, one of the passengers. Graham was tried and executed.

Binstock's body was taken here for examination by representatives of the San Bernardino county coroner's office.

SYMBOL OF CONTROL

As time goes by, women seem to be fastening a tighter and tighter grip on the spending of money in America.

With their high-pressured husbands dropping from heart attacks and other ailments, the wives of businessmen have long been widening their beachhead in the U. S. economy through the acquisition of inherited wealth.

But that's only part of it. It's the women who spend most of the average man's regular earnings, for groceries, clothes, furniture and all manner of household stuff. The man hardly gets a chance to wave at his check as it speeds past him on a transmission belt from his employer to his wife's clutches.

The symbol of this control is the woman's handbag.

It used to be a dainty little thing fitted out with a mirror, a powder puff and a small pocket for lipstick and rouge. You could maybe get a hankie, a tiny gold pencil and a couple of keys in the remaining space.

All that has changed as woman's role has altered.

Walk down the street and take a little visual survey of the handbag today. There are many types, all of them big.

Some look like mail pouches. There's another kind that would serve a diplomatic courier well. Wicker is in vogue, too, so you spot large, boxy affairs that could be picnic baskets or wine casks.

What's in them? Everything. Whole packets of paper tissues, gloves, sweaters, scarves, rolled-up raincoats, knocked-down umbrellas, note pads.

Oh, yes, and money.

The reason for all this equipment is simple. Women are out so frequently and so continuously they have to be prepared for every whim of weather, every shopping circumstance. A cold could run its course before they got back from some of these tours. In the truest sense, these are expeditions, and expeditions must be outfitted.

Men can't do much about the spending except mutter in futility. But they can complain with perhaps better effect about one thing. As the women swing down the sidewalks sniffing out places to unload their cash, a good many yield their bulky handbags like weapons. Few are the men who don't collect a bruise or two on arm or hand from this close-order street combat.

Inquiry by a research agency has disclosed that British housewives now figure their work week at 50 hours, down nine hours in six years. They still find an over-emphasis on the theory that woman's place is in the home.

DIVIDED ABAB WORLD

The shape of events in the Middle East is now at least sufficiently clear to reveal that Nasser has been set back in his effort to become leader of the Pan-Arabic world. Aligned with him is Syria, but the kings have joined up and, with Saud as the leading figure, they have made a counter bid.

Nasser forces remain in the various Arab countries, and King Hussein of Jordan possibly could not rule without force. However, Nasser and the Nasser forces have sustained definite setbacks. Dynastic feuds seem to have been set aside in opposition to the Egyptian dictator whose policies result in the loss of funds for the oil-producing countries, and who was unquestionably involved in the attempt to impose a pro-Egyptian, pro-Russian policy on Jordan.

But the issue in the Arab world is not a simple one of communism versus anti-communism. If events are interpreted by this formula alone, perspectives will be distorted. The issue is Arab unity under whose leadership? This struggle is not ended. Nasser merely lost a round.

There may be more rounds to come. The Arab world, feverish with nationalism, is a torn and divided one, and at present the

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE HEADLINE WRITERS

I saw a headline in a newspaper which read, "Why Do Americans Fear Rights First Congress Nailed Down?" This did not appear in the "Daily Worker" but in a very conservative publication. So I struggled to discover what the first Congress "nailed down"—apparently an enormous feat in carpentry.

What is undoubtedly referred to in this article are the first ten amendments to the Constitution, namely the Bill of Rights, which is a collection of the rights of the individual that government may not impair, most of them emanating from English common law and the traditions of the colonies during the nearly 170 years of existence prior to the Revolution. These first ten amendments were not "nailed down" by the first Congress or any other Congress engaged in such vulgarity, but were passed by the States as the Constitution provides.

What the writer of the headline in historic error refers to is the "Resolution of the First Congress Submitting Twelve Amendments to the Constitution," which was duly submitted to the states because several of them refused to adopt the Constitution otherwise. The preamble of this resolution makes it all clear:

"The Conventions of a number of the States, having at the time of their adopting the Constitution, expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added; and as extending the ground of public confidence in the Government, will best ensure the beneficial ends of its institution."

The first two of these twelve amendments dealt with a clarification of the first Article of the Constitution dealing with (1) how to elect a member of the House of Representatives; and (2) preventing Senators and Representatives from raising their own salaries without an election for Representatives intervening—a very good measure.

What we generally refer to as the First Amendment was actually the Third and the famous Fifth was the Seventh in the resolution. New York agreed to all but the Second Amendment but Virginia agreed to the entire twelve.

What is significant in this is that it is the States and not Congress which amend the Constitution because sovereignty in this country is vested in each State and not in the Federal Government. The writer of this article asks:

"Are we, the proud and the strong, so terrified of internal subversion on the part of a legal if many political party, whose numbers probably do not exceed 50,000 persons, that we are willing to let civil liberties guaranteed to us by the Constitution go by default?"

The answer is, of course, very simple if one applies logic to public questions. Whose rights? For instance in the Jencks case, the Supreme Court tried to solve this problem as it related to FBI files which contain accumulations of material confidentially given by public-spirited citizens who have assisted the law-enforcement agencies. While it is true that some of the information refers to Communist and other subversive cases, there is also considerable material relating to other crimes such as kidnapping, automobile thefts, attempts to rob the government, etc.

Is it the right of a citizen who is charged with a crime to see the whole of the government's case against him in a criminal case? This is what lawyers call "liberal disclosure," but the question arises how liberal the disclosure has to be and whether ultimately the raw files of the FBI will have to be submitted to courts, many judges not knowing the difference between a raw file, which contains every scrap of rumor, gossip and fact that comes in, including unevaluated material, and a prepared brief which provides only carefully evaluated and processed matter. A judge recently fined an FBI agent $1,000 for not giving the defendant a file in a criminal case which had nothing to do with Communism or subversion.

Unfortunately, the ten amendments to which we usually refer as the Bill of Rights do not apply only to those who belong to splinter political parties. They apply to all persons who live in this country except such as enjoy extrajudiciality. The assumption is false that our rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness are divisible in the sense that we can pick and choose which ones we prefer and for whom. Thus far Communists and subversives have been favored.

Preschool Children Often
Need Vision Corrections

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

It has not been recognized as often as it should be that children sometimes need special eye attention before they reach school age. An extremely valuable discussion of this subject by a Detroit eye specialist recently appeared in The Sight-Saving Review, published by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

The author pointed out that vision is a highly complex sense. It requires the participation of three entirely different systems: the visual pathway, eye movement and balance, and the higher brain centers.

THE GLANDS of internal secretion control the growth of children and the eye matures along with muscles, nerves and bones. Of specific importance is the fact that one portion of the retina of the eye is slow in maturing. The clarity of vision of a four-year-old is likely to be considerably less than it is a few years later.

However, the ability to focus rays of light on the retina, which is spoken of as accommodation, is much better in small children than it is later in life. A seven-year-old child can often read ordinary print at a distance of one inch.

THIS ABILITY to see clearly things close to the eyes decreases bit by bit until most of us at 45 years of age need reading glasses to see well at 14 inches.

Thus, parents and teachers need not fear that a child who holds a book or magazine close to the eyes is injuring them.

Difficulty, with the system of eye balance controlled by the muscles should receive early correction. Disturbance of balance may result in blurring of vision, headaches or even double vision.

This is the squint which I have discussed on other occasions and which should receive early treatment.

IT OFTEN BEGINS between the ages of one and four and therefore cannot be safely left for treatment until school age. Its treatment is highly technical and may involve glasses, surgery, eye exercises or combinations of these.

This type of difficulty is often discovered because the child may tilt the head somewhat to the side, although this alone is not enough to make a diagnosis.

The Detroit ophthalmologist also discussed the question of whether glasses weaken the eyes. Glasses do not change the eyes but change the direction of light coming into them. "I have never seen vision made worse by properly fitted lenses," he said, "but I have seen vision made better by them."

It is now possible to prescribe glasses for infants of one year or younger.

Stocks Up Slightly

New York, July 27 (AP)—Stocks made minor upward progress on average this week as midsummer lassitude overtook the market and trading simmered down to the lowest level in two months.

It would have been a very satisfactory week for the bulls if they could have ignored Monday and Friday. Prices declined both of those days. Sandwiched between them were three days of quite respectable gains.

Rails Lead Advance
Rails led the advance on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, which greatly cheered the bulls because the rails have lagged behind industrials for many weeks. Baltimore and Ohio paced the upward charge, setting a new high for the year.

Followers of the rails were expecting them to get a freight rate hike this autumn. Attention also was attracted to the group because of a proposal by eastern roads to set up a government "revolving fund," which would enable the roads to purchase needed freight car equipment.

Many rails came out with June and six months reports during the week. Reflecting the consistently lower freight carloadings this year, these earnings generally fell under the comparative 1956 levels.

The steels also had a run of popularity. Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown reported their earnings. In each case net income for the first half was above a year ago but the second quarter fell under that of 1956.

Steel at Low Point
Steel production at the moment has sunk to around the low point of the year. But steel executives think operations will bound up in the fall.

the fourth quarter and evidently some stock traders were of similar mind. Admittedly, much depends on buying from automobile manufacturers.

At times the bulls were attracted to the motors. Chrysler, very active, moved up on several days but dropped sharply after release of a six months earning report showing a spectacular gain over last year.

Those who felt stocks would work higher also expressed cheer over the fact that new stock and bond offerings appeared to be well accepted. It indicated, they said, that there still was a good demand for stocks.

Nevertheless, the market's overall progress was labored. Underneath the activity in the leading issues, and advances in the average, a good number of stocks were going down.

Thus, while the Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended 30 cents higher for the week at $187.100, there were only 476 advances in contrast with 734 declines for the entire list. And new lows for the year outnumbered new highs 121 to 61.

Probably the most arresting feature was the dullness, a condition not calculated to bring happiness to brokerage houses living on commissions. Volume did not reach two million shares on any day. Last year it was above two million shares on four of the five trading days.

For the week, volume totaled 9,031,950 shares. This was the smallest turnover since the week ended May 31, when it totaled 8,676,490 shares. But there were only four trading days that week.

Close to Highs
From the standpoint of the chart players the market still was in a very interesting position.

It was close to the all-time highs set in April, 1956. It was either backing away from those highs or was consolidating its position before going through them, depending upon how one wanted to interpret its action.

The five most active issues this week on the American Stock Exchange were:

Banff Oil up 1/2 at 311/16 on 145,800 shares; Merrill Petroleum, up 2 1/2 at 17 1/2; Fargo Oil, down 13/16 at 8 1/2; Cuban American Oil, up 1 1/4 at 5 1/2; and Jupiter Oil, down 3/4 at 39/16.

The five most active issues on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Chrysler, down 3/4 at 78 1/2, on 190,200 shares; Sunshine Mining, unchanged at 12; Decca Records, up 1 1/2 at 18 1/2; El Paso Natural gas, down at 36 1/2; and Bethlehem Steel, down 1/4 at 49.

Weekly Bond Review

New York, July 27 (AP)—Corporate bonds drifted downward again this week, settling to new lows for the year.

U. S. government bonds reacted to the treasury's refinancing at the 4 per cent interest level. As a result they closed out the week with losses in some cases of almost 1/2 of a point. There were rumors in financial circles that the federal reserve came into the market on several occasions to support prices.

In the corporate list, investment quality issues, rails and utilities all declined. Only industrials resisted the downturn to post a fractional advance. Japanese issues worked lower in an easier foreign section.

Pace Slackened
The trading pace slackened in midsummer doldrums. Volume for the week amounted to only $15,578,200 par value on the big board. This compared with $19,245,400 the previous week.

For the week, the Treasury's long range 40-year 3 per cent bond sold 22/32 at 88 4/32 bid. The 30-year 3 1/2's declined 12/32 at 93 12/32. The Victory 2 1/2's of December, 1972-67, were off 8/32 at 86 16/32. The 2 1/2's of 1963 posted an advance of 2/32 for the period to close at 91 28/32 bid.

The Treasury's refunding offer for its maturing August and October issues involved nearly 24 billion dollars. The Treasury offered 4 per cent interest, twice what it did two years ago, and the highest it has paid since 1933.

The Treasury's bow to high rates in the money market was an effort to hold down attrition. That means the Treasury wanted to induce holders of maturing issues to switch over into the new ones rather than demanding cash. The subscription books closed Wednesday.

Late Friday, the Treasury reported it would have to pay out about $1,100,000,000 in cash, resulting in an attrition of less than 5 per cent, figured on the full amount of the expiring issues, to be precise, $23,900,000,000. A Treasury spokesman called it a "very satisfactory" flotation.

However, some bond experts pointed out that all but about 10 billion dollars of the roughly 24 billion maturities were held by the Federal Reserve and government agency accounts. So the attrition, they said, was $1,100,000,000 on a base of about 10 billion, or much nearer 11 per cent.

Livestock Report

Chicago, July 27 (AP)—Hog prices advanced 50 cents to $10.00 this week, influenced by continued small receipts which compelled all interests to buy for immediate requirements with a minimum of sorting. Sows sold 75 cents to $1.25 higher.

Receipts of 31,000 hogs at Chicago were the smallest for five days in three months and with one exception the smallest since 1954.

Lower Than Monday
The closing top was $22.00, paid for No. 2 and 3 grade 200 to 280 butchers. This was 50 cents lower than Monday's high

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—Senate Democratic Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas rose and congratulated his distinguished colleagues of both parties the other day for their high level and statesmanlike debates on civil rights.

This was observing the best traditions of the Senate.

Taking this tip from his leader, Oklahoma's Sen. Bob Kerr stood up on his hind legs a few hours later and declared that no man could help President Eisenhower with his fiscal policies "because one cannot do that without brains and he does not have them."

Later Kerr sought to change the record to make it read, "without fiscal brains, and he does not have them."

This caused Republican Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana to object and let the original insult stand, as uttered.

TO THIS Senator Kerr replied in effect that it was only Senator Capehart who had no brains at all and that he was a bag of wind besides.

Capehart won the round, however, and the galleries applauded him when he declared, "I would rather be a friend of the President of the United States, with no brains, than be a friend of the senator from Oklahoma with brains."

Capehart further declared that Kerr could call him anything he pleased because he wasn't afraid of the Oklahoma.

Whereupon Kerr got in the last word by quoting his father to the effect that, "They that know nothing, fear nothing."

THIS MAY BE snappy repartee in the oil fields. But it reflects no credit on the senator from Oklahoma, even if he is a multimillionaire and was born in a log cabin.

It is an old trick in rough and tumble politics that when a debater can't win an argument on logic, he calls his opponent a dirty name.

That is supposed to demolish him. More often than not, however, name-calling merely exposes the weakness of the name-caller.

"GIVE 'EM HELL" Harry Truman was always a great one at pasting labels on his opponents. In a more restrained and polite manner, Sen. Harry F. Byrd has used this technique during the civil rights debate against Chief Justice Earl Warren and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr.

Byrd called Warren "the modern Thaddeus Stevens" and declared the civil rights legislation would make the attorney general an "American Caesar."

Stevens, a post Civil War congressman from Pennsylvania, wrote legislation that sent federal troops into the South to enforce the emancipation laws.

Senate Minority Leader William Knowland of California and other Republicans arose at once to defend the chief justice and the attorney general.

But some political mud always sticks. Smears are usually answered or an attempt is made to cover them up by other smears.

The notable exception is that neither the President nor the chief justice has descended to personal abuse of their critics in this civil rights controversy, on fiscal policy or on any other. For that they emerge the bigger men.

disappointment on the Board of Trade this week was the failure of any large scale bakery flour business to develop.

As a result, wheat futures rolled along on a weak tone most of the time, except on Friday when the bread grain got a lift on reports that some flour business, although small, had been sighted. This brought on a moderate rally and wheat closed higher for the first time this week.

Trend Reversed
Soybeans, which staged a bull market most of last week with gains of 5 to 8 1/2 cents, reversed the trend this week, ending up with declines ranging from 8 1/2 to 11 1/4 cents. Corn, oats and rye also suffered setbacks on the downturn.

New style wheat closed the week 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 lower than Friday a week ago. Corn was 1 1/2 to 3 1/4 cents lower, oats down to 1 1/2 cents, rye off 4 to 5 cents, soybeans 8 1/2 to 11 1/4 cents lower and hard was down 43 to 47 cents a hundred pounds.

Many wheat traders, disappointed at failure of the long overdue flour business to enter the market, conjectured that the big chain bakers are holding out in hopes of a price decline before making substantial purchases.

Last year at this time most chain bakers had purchased sufficient wheat supplies to last six months. Despite the lack of major flour business, the grain trade feels that bakers must have hand-to-mouth replacement buying and this should supply some steady support in wheat on a scale-down.

Other traders said the fact that flour business has not developed on a large scale can prevent an exaggerated downturn at this time as many mill interests have covered or are covering their current sales by scale-down replacement in the futures market.

Soybeans turned bearish this week after scoring gains most of the month. Beans started the week higher, apparently going ahead on last week's bullish momentum, but quickly declined in the face of heavy liquidation. Biggest decline of the week was 6 1/2 cents, on Monday. Several rallies in beans fizzled out.

The corn market throughout the week was devoid of feature. Local stocks of corn remained constant at approximately 25,000,000 bushels, of which about 40 per cent was free corn. Local industry was the best buyer of cash corn but this failed to strengthen futures prices.

Monday Receipts
Chicago, July 27 (AP)—Unofficial estimated livestock receipts for Monday are 20,000 cattle, 8,000 hogs and 2,000 sheep.

Questions -- Answers

Q—To what area does the term Delmarva Peninsula refer?
A—Anchored to the eastern coast of the United States by a 12-mile neck is a unique peninsula containing portions of three states—Delaware, Maryland and Virginia.

Q—What is the Treacle Bible?
A—It is a Bible published in 1568, which has the word "treacle" for "balm" in the line "Is there no balm in Gilead?"

Feeling Is That President Held Back on School Aid Bill

BY JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

Washington, July 27 (AP)—If President Eisenhower had lifted a finger to fight for the federal aid to education bill, it seems certain he could have saved it. At the showdown he sat silent although he had been calling for federal aid since 1953.

The result: A majority of his Republicans did Thursday exactly what they did last year. They teamed up with southern Democrats to kill the bill in the House. Republicans who favored the bill are sore at Eisenhower's performance.

Only Needed Three

If three Republicans had switched their votes, the bill would have been saved. The vote was 208 to kill it, 203 to save it.

Eisenhower not only didn't plug for the bill, he indirectly gave support to those who wanted to demolish it by letting it be known that, while he'd sign the bill if it passed, he wasn't satisfied with it.

The Republican majority tactics Thursday were like an encore of their act in 1956 when a similar bill was before the House.

First, they joined northern Democrats in voting an anti-segregation amendment into the bill—withholding federal money from segregated schools—and then switched over to join southern Democrats in killing the measure altogether.

Repeat Performance

Two of the three top Republicans in the House voted to kill the bill last year and again Thursday. They were Reps. Charles Halleck (Ind.) assistant Republican leader, and Leslie Arends (Ill.), Republican whip in the House.

Rep. Joseph Martin (Mass.), the No. 1 Republican in the House, voted for the bill Thursday as he did in 1956.

Eisenhower, since 1953, has repeatedly called for some kind of federal aid to get schools built. He has urged action both in his state of the union messages and in special messages to Congress. And the Republican campaign platform of 1956 called for federal aid to schools. While the bill which went before the House this year was not exactly the kind Eisenhower wanted, it was the only one which had a chance of passage this year.

This is an example of how some help from Eisenhower might have saved the bill, if it only took the form of a brief message to the House or pressure on no more than three leading House Republicans: Halleck, Arends, and Rep. Edward Rees (Kan.).

Changed His Vote

While the final vote to kill the bill was 208-203, during the roll-call Rees voted for the bill. Before the final tally he changed his vote to "no." Rees is a veteran of 20 years in the House.

If Rees had stayed in favor of the bill the final vote would have been only 207-204 against. If Arends also had voted "yes," it would have been 206-205 against. But if Halleck had voted "yes" along with the two others, the final vote would have been 206-205 for the bill.

Following are the votes on the anti-segregation amendment and on the bill itself in 1956 and Thursday:

The anti-segregation amendment:

1956 — For the amendment: 148 Republicans, 77 Democrats (total, 225). Against the amendment: 46 Republicans, 146 Democrats (total, 192).

Thursday — For the amendment, 136, against, 105. Unlike the 1956 roll-call vote, yesterday's vote was a standing one which did not list the members by name.

But reporters who cover the House every day and recognize the members by sight said the lineup for the anti-segregation amendment was the same as last year: Republicans and Northern Democrats.

For killing the bill:

1956 — 119 Republicans and 105 Democrats (total, 224) voted to kill the bill. (In the House the 11 southern states have 106 seats.) Voting for the bill were 75 Republicans (compared with the 148 Republicans who voted for the anti-segregation amendment) and 119 Democrats (compared with 77 Democrats who voted for the amendment).

Thursday — 111 Republicans and 97 Democrats (87 of whom were from the south)—for a total of 208 voted to kill the bill.

A & P Automobile Winners Listed

Miss Ruth Williamson of Plattsburgh is the winner of a new Buick Riviera Hardtop in A&P's $56,000 giveaway, which is currently in progress.

Miss Williamson is employed as a bookkeeper in her father's gas station. This is the third Buick to be given away by the A&P Food Stores and each week for five more weeks some lucky person will win one of these beautiful cars.

Olive Kurlay of Adams, Mass., received a 4-door Dauphine Renault, which was given away at the same time.

Other gifts included a Frigidaire, an Air Conditioner, portable TVs and Hi Fi record players, which went to residents of Johnstown, Troy, Lake Placid, Gloversville, Schenectady, Catskill and Pittsfield.

The next group of winners will be drawn by Mimi Benzell, former Metropolitan Opera star, at the A&P Super Market, 618 Central avenue, Albany Thursday evening.

Killed in Mishap

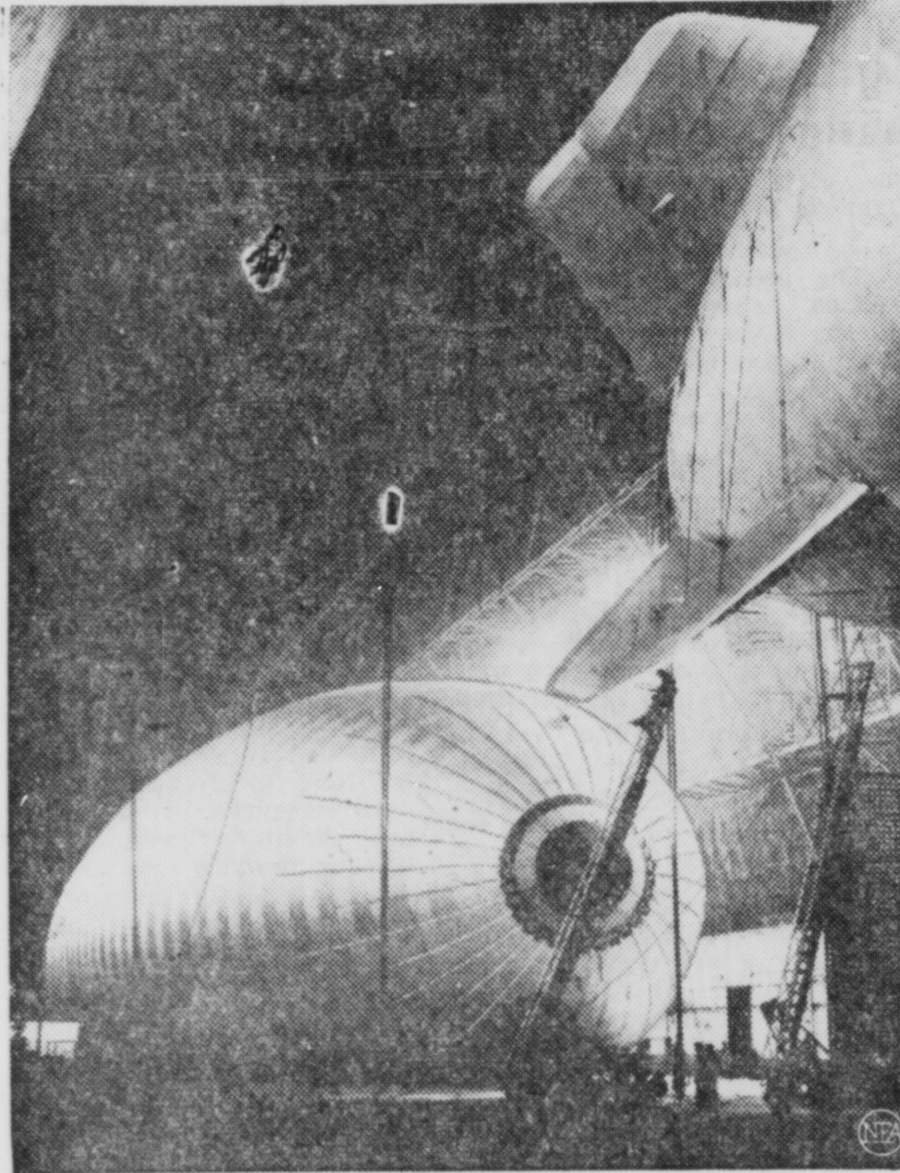

Warwick, N. Y., July 27 (AP)—George M. House, 20, of Edenville, N. Y., was killed today when his car veered off the Pine Island Turnpike two miles from this Orange county community and smashed into a tree. He was alone in the car.

Voting to save it were 77 Republicans and 26 Democrats (total, 203).

Aviation Keeps Moving

WORLD'S FASTEST?—This English Electric P.1, supersonic jet fighter, photographed streaking through the air over Warton, England, has unofficially broken the world air speed record with a speed nearing 1,200 m.p.h. and, according to reports, not at full throttle. Production of the P.1 has been ordered by the Royal Air Force. It reportedly will be Britain's last manned fighter aircraft.

WORLD'S LARGEST—The largest nonrigid airship ever built nears completion in the world's largest hangar at Akron, Ohio. The huge envelope (or gas bag) of the U.S. Navy's ZPG-3W airship is undergoing finishing touches in Goodyear Aircraft Corporation's huge hangar. Project details have not been released, but it is believed to be at least one and a half times the size of the largest airships currently in Naval service for airborne "early warning" missions.

Blames Romance

Albany, N. Y., July 27 (AP)—Michael A. Buttler, 23, of Greenwich, Conn., said romance pushed his six-year-old car along the State Thruway at 120 miles an hour yesterday. When a trooper stopped him, Buttler said he was driving to Canada to meet his sweetheart who had flown from Erin. Buttler, who came to this country a month ago, said he was "lonesome." A peace justice fined him $50.

Three GOP Leaders And Wives at Dinner

Lake George, N. Y., July 27 (AP)—While political observers speculated about the state GOP candidate for governor, three prominent Republicans and their wives had dinner together here last night.

Oswald D. Heck, Assembly speaker, J. Russel Sprague, Nassau county leader, and William L. Pfeiffer, former GOP state chairman, dined at the Jolly Roger.

Heck wants to be governor. Sprague dominates one of the most powerful county Republican organizations.

Sprague told a reporter the meeting was "strictly non-political."

Heck and Pfeiffer have summer homes here.

Articles Made By Blind To Be Held at Phoenicia

Thursday, August 29, is the date of this year's Phoenicia sale of articles made by the blind, to be held on the porch of the Gormley Hotel.

Committees of ladies representing the churches of Phoenicia will direct the sale.

Many useful and economical household articles, made by the blind workers in the Albany shops, are offered for sale.

The 'Zelda'... Large House With Lots of Living Area

Rooms... Six
Bedrooms... Two
Closets... Eight
Cubage... 45,160 feet
Dimensions... 67' 2" by 31' 4"

The Home of the Week Plan Service today features the "Zelda," a six-room house with plenty of living area and an above-average amount of closet space.

It is an extremely practical house in plan and exterior design, but claims as its own some features found usually in so-called luxury housing.

The 17½ by 14-foot living room at the front of the house is entered from the left of the main entrance foyer. On entering the room, a visitor is immediately taken by the large off-center fireplace at the end of the room opposite the foyer entrance. Another feature of the room is the bow window in the front wall.

The entrance at the front of the house is unusually large and across one full length of this spacious area is an expanse of closet space.

In addition to the required space for guests' coats and hats, there is closet space enough for other types of family storage.

Triple Closets
Closets also abound in the master bedroom at the front of the house. This room, measuring 12 feet by 13 feet, has two double-size closets, and just outside this room, along the same closet wall there is a third, double-size closet.

Because of this closet's proximity to the bathroom it is opposite the bath, one would expect its primary use to be that of linen storage.

But, this does not have to be the case in the "Zelda," as the bathroom is equipped with an unusually large linen closet designed for the purpose, so that double closet in the hall can be used for other important storage purposes.

Second Bedroom
The second bedroom in the "Zelda" is at the back of the house. Measuring 10 feet by 13 feet, it too boasts two, double-size closets the same as in the master bedroom at the front of the house.

The dining room and the kitchen are arranged along the rear of the house. The dining room is 12 feet long by nine feet wide. Although entered from the front foyer, it can be shut off from this area through the use of a sliding door designed so it will roll back into the partition.

Breakfast Bar
The kitchen and the adjoining breakfast lounge employs open planning. The work area of the nine-foot by 12-foot kitchen extends along the rear wall of the "Zelda."

But on the breakfast lounge side, a counter extends out from the rear wall and is designed for use as a breakfast bar. Either built-in stools or conventional stools located on the breakfast lounge side will provide a hungry family with the quick but hearty breakfast it will need before heading for the school or the office.

A small terrace just outside the 11 by 17-foot breakfast lounge would heighten interest in breakfast on a summer Sunday morning.

The two-car garage is 20 feet square. Behind the rear partition of the garage is a 14-foot by six-foot work shop or storage area. There is also a lavatory off the breakfast lounge.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. Send requests with the name of the house desired to Home of the Week, Inc., Dept. KF, 87 Weybosset street, Providence, R. I.

Current Houses More Spacious

Houses now being built average 267 square feet more floor space than those built six years ago, according to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

In 1950, the typical new house had 983 square feet of floor area, the agency said. Today, the average has jumped to 1,250 square feet.

Additional bedrooms and bathrooms account for much of the extra space. In 1950, for example, only one new house in three had more than two bedrooms. Three of every four now have at least three bedrooms, HHFA reported.

Bathrooms averaged slightly more than one to a house in 1950. Today the average is 1.5 bathrooms and in some areas the average is as high as 2.1.

Drying Laundry Dampens House

Some houses are damp because the roofs leak and some are damp because the basement fills up with water when it rains but a good many are damp because too much laundry is hung inside the house to dry. Your average basket of laundry contains a good many quarts of water and when this is hung inside the house or placed in an electric dryer, the air in the house must absorb the moisture out of the laundry before the laundry is dry.

If you hang laundry to dry in the basement during wet weather or even in dry, be sure there are enough open windows and good ventilation to allow the moist air to escape outdoors. If you can't get enough natural ventilation—use an electric fan. This incidentally will speed up the drying process considerably.

For those who use electric dryers it is best to have some sort of exhaust fan to pick up the moist air at a point near the dryer and get it outdoors as quickly as possible. This holds true regardless of whether the dryer is in the kitchen, laundry or basement. As long as it's in the house proper it is adding moisture to the house air.

Exterior Painting
House paint can be used on clabbard siding and wood trim, brick, cement, stucco, block, asbestos cement stucco and stone. It can also be used on iron and galvanized surfaces in addition to metal siding, steel and aluminum windows. When painting the trim on a house that is of uncoated masonry, however, be sure to use the type of house paint that is of the non-chalking variety.

Savings on Repairs
In any repair or remodeling job, the big cost usually is not materials but labor. Thus it pays in the long run to use durable, waterproof materials such as tile in modernizing the bathroom, kitchen and other rooms of the home, since tile is permanent. It won't be necessary to have the job done over again in a few years with the resulting expense for labor.

Wax Varieties
Polishing wax comes in three forms—paste, liquid and emulsion. The paste and liquid forms require polishing after drying. The emulsion type dries naturally with more or less gloss and usually is not polished. It is sometimes called "self-polishing" wax.

Outdoor Terraces Wanted by Most

A recent study of homemaker opinion shows that extra living space is the most desired item in home remodeling plans. No less than 15 per cent of the homemakers wanted a new outdoor terrace.

Only a few years ago the addition of a terrace was considered impractical by all except families with large budgets and ample landscape. Today, however, rising incomes, the increasing skill of the family handyman, and the modern emphasis on outdoor living are bringing the pleasures of outdoor terraces into focus for more families.

Ideally, the terrace should be located near a shade tree. Adequate shade is even more important than nearness to the house. Privacy can be achieved with a wood cane fence. If the terrace is to be located adjacent to the house, there should be access to both the living room and the kitchen from the terrace.

Brighten That Foyer
One way to brighten a dark and narrow foyer is to use rubber tile in solid color or checker-board design.

Increased Space
A lot of laundry efficiency may be fitted into a small space. Modern appliances, built-in storage units and waterproof ceramic tile surfaces are making it practical to have a laundry in limited quarters. The laundry may be at one end of the kitchen, in one corner of a larger bathroom or adjacent to the powder room.

Natural Beauty Prevails
The strong interest in the natural beauty of genuine hardwood plywood is shown in the names that various manufacturers have given the finishes on like spicewood, platinum, pumice, nutwood, fruitwood, and so on. Subtle color tints are evident in many of these finishes.

X Marks the Spot
Before you attempt to drive a nail or drill a hole into a plaster wall, make a small X on the wall where the hole is to be made with cellulose tape. Drill or drive the nail through the tape and you won't be bothered by the plaster around the hole chipping.

Clear As Glass
Glass, according to its manufacturers, is virtually impervious to wear and corrosion, and has probably the lowest upkeep cost of any material used in a house (if you don't count window washing).

Repair Screwdrivers
Worn or chipped screwdrivers can be made as good as new. Clamp the screwdriver in a vise, then file the end square with a metal file. A grinding wheel can be used to all but the screwdriver blade must be dipped in water frequently to prevent the metal from losing the temper.

Practical Finish
A practical finish for pine boards and batten siding is obtained with a pigmented water repellent preservative. While not as durable a finish as paint, it is more easily renewed to retain the desired appearance.

Reducing Noise
While acoustical ceiling tile will help to keep noise inside a workshop, other measures—such as rubber pads under tool tables—will cut down the noise at its source.

Good Taste Today

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

INTRODUCTIONS IN A PUBLIC PLACE

Dear Mrs. Post: Not long ago I went to the theatre with my daughter-in-law. During intermission she chatted with several friends of hers who sat nearby, but did not introduce me to them. I felt very uncomfortable just sitting there with nothing else to do but listen to their talk. I thought she should have introduced me. When I mentioned it afterward to her she seemed surprised and quoted you as saying not to introduce in public places.

Answer: It is true that introductions should not be made in public needlessly. But in a situation where the stranger is forced to become part of a conversation for more than a moment, she should certainly be introduced. This would have been especially true in your case if your daughter-in-law's friends sat directly in front or behind you so that you were as near them as she. If they were over on her side and out of reach of you, then the omission would be understandable.

Tips on Arrival

Dear Mrs. Post: Arriving at a hotel is it necessary to tip the doorman who opens the door of the taxi, especially if he just takes out the luggage and puts it on the sidewalk where a bell-boy picks it up and carries it into the hotel.

Answer: Doorman, no; but the bellboy who picks up your bags and carries them to your room, yes.

Modern Mourning Customs

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a member of a large woman's club in this city and I would like to know how soon after the death of my mother it would be proper for me to attend meetings again. I want to show the proper respect for her memory. I am also one of a group of four women who play cards together once a month. How soon would it be proper for me to resume playing with them?

Answer: This depends upon the custom in your community, but I would say that after one month you could go to your club meetings and also play cards at the next game of your foursome who cannot play without you.

Different wedding forms are used for large and small weddings. Mrs. Post explains in her leaflet E-10, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Dame Rumor Editor Gets Journalism Scholarship for '57

The Kingston Newspaper Guild today named John Snyder, editor-in-chief of the Kingston High School publication, Dame Rumor, as winner of its annual $200 journalism scholarship.

Snyder was the unanimous choice of the Guild's editorial board for the award which goes annually to the Ulster county high school senior who has done most to advance scholastic journalism.

The award to Snyder is the second by the Kingston Newspaper Guild this year. It recently voted him the $10 Herbert L. Van Deusen prize in journalism. This competition is restricted to Kingston High school students.

Snyder's editorial and typographical achievements with Dame Rumor earned him the scholarship in competition against ten other entries from Ulster county high schools. The Guild's editorial board described the work as the most advanced ever submitted in the Guild contest.

Outstanding Student

A son of the late John I. Snyder and Mrs. Snyder of 67 Maiden Lane, the Dame Rumor editor was one of the outstanding students in the 1957 class at Kingston High and has had many awards heaped upon him.

Young Snyder served as president of the National Honor Society and the Webster-Hayne Debating Society. In addition he was secretary of the Key Club, historian of the Student Council, and representative of the Student Congress.

Other Awards

A recipient of a New York State Regents scholarship, he also won the Honor Society Award for character; the American Legion Gold Medal for oratory and the American Legion award to the boy "who has shown outstanding qualities of honor, courage, scholarship, leadership, service and civic duties."

Snyder also won the B'nai B'rith award for the student who has exhibited "the best understanding and appreciation of democratic values." A third place winner in the New York State District Key Club oratorical contest, he has been written up in "Who's Who Among Student Leaders in High Schools of America" and had an article entitled "Confessions of an Editor" published in "The Sixth Estate."

Going to Georgetown

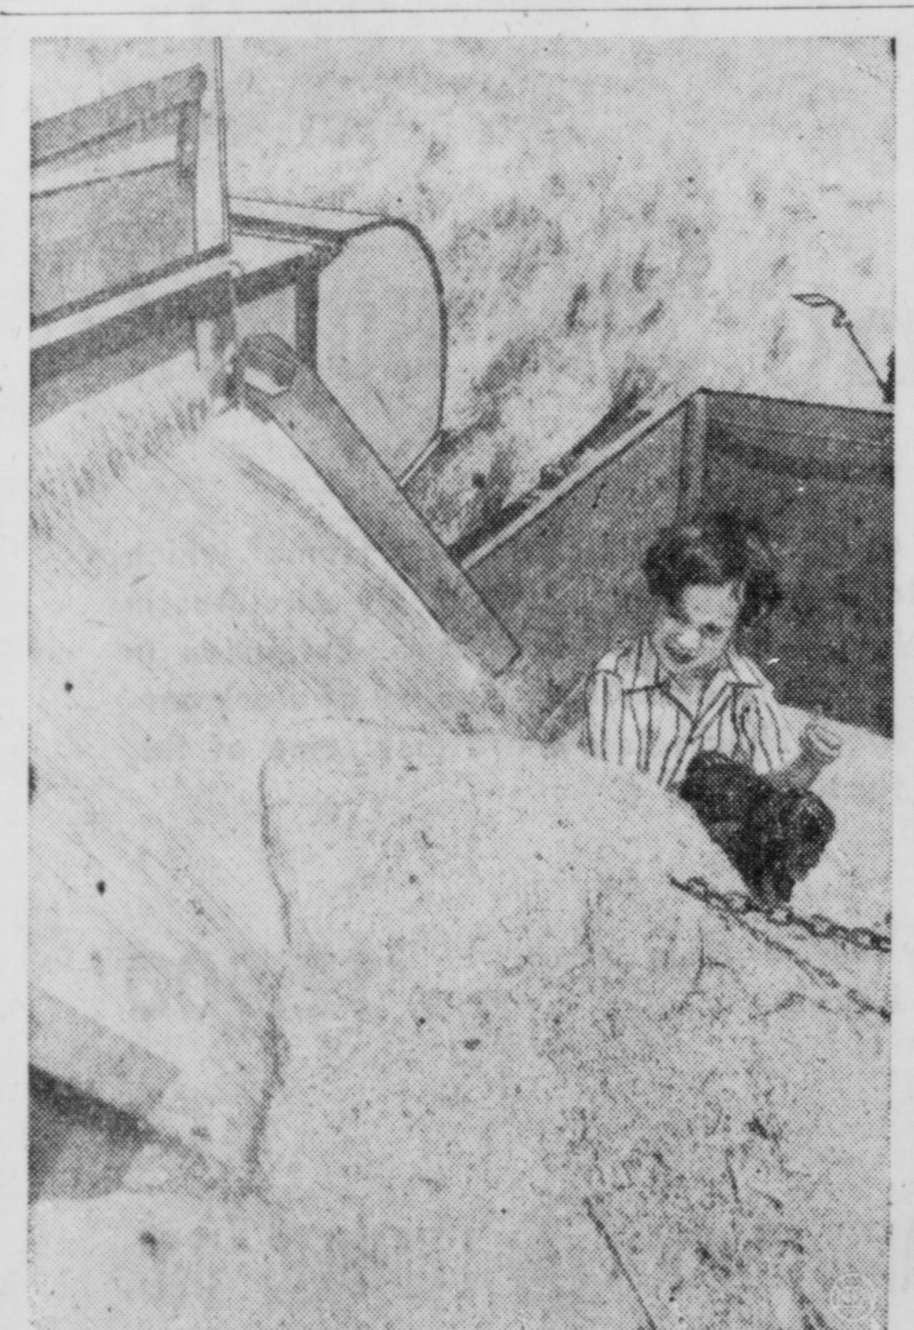

The Guild's new scholarship winner will enter the College of Arts and Sciences at Georgetown University in September.

Richard J. McCarthy and Irwin J. Thomas were co-chairmen of the Guild's selections committee.

The Mature Parent

Here's the Best Way to Referee Child's Quarrel

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Under a maple tree in the back yard, Sharon and a friend were having a dolls' party. The table was a barrel lid; the cloth an old pillow case; the tea was water. But the cookies and the china were real. Suddenly a big lump of dirt landed right in the middle of the table.

"Stupid — stupid — stupid!" yelled her little brother from where he'd thrown it—and ran. Sharon caught him and was sitting on top of him the better to beat him when her mother came running from the house. She slapped Sharon, told her friend to go home. Then, bearing the roaring Billy into the house, she cried, "I don't care what he did! You had no right to hit him."

This kind of treatment can only foment quarreling between Sharon and Billy.

According to a study made of 6,000 families by psychologists Norma E. Cutts and Nicholas Moseley, our most effective treatment of quarreling children is to remove them both from our presence.

It's effective because the equal penalty denies our moral endorsement to one of our two quarreling children that is always our mistake.

We simply cannot know the rights or wrongs of quarrels between Sharon and Billy. Their mutual jealousy expresses itself in a thousand ways we never register.

For example, you may imagine that their quarrel today was caused by Billy's aggression. Actually, it was provoked by Sharon who exaggerated the fun she was having as the insider on the dolls' party to stress Billy's lack of fun as an outsider on the party.

This kind of unnoticed attack and counterattack goes on much of the time between Sharon and Billy. When we condemn either one of these children as the cause of a single explosion of jealous feeling, we can be sure of only one thing—we are misjudging.

Our inevitable misjudgment simply increases their jealousy.

For their quarrels are just skirmishes in their basic battle for our preference. Each believes himself less favored than the other. When we give either quarrel our moral endorsement, we add to this envious belief.

Kingston Post Edges Rensselaer, 4-2, on Only One Hit

Local Players Oppose Albany Tonight at Dietz

In spite of a woeful hitting slump, the Kingston American Legion Post Junior baseball team keeps rolling along on their merry way in tournament competition. Last night at Dietz Stadium, the local "Hitless Wonders" needed only a solitary safe blow to down Melvin Roads Post of Rensselaer, 4-2 in opening action in the District Three tourney.

The victory moved Kingston into the semi-finals tonight (Saturday) against Capitol City Post of Albany at eight o'clock. Albany didn't have to throw a ball to gain the semis as the Hudson Post failed to show in the first game thus giving the upstarters an automatic 9-0 forfeit triumph.

Two games will precede this evening's feature. At 2:30, Catskill opposes Livingston Manor and then at 5 o'clock the winner of that contest faces Schoharie in a semi-final match. The championship final is set for Sunday at 8 p. m. at the stadium.

Sammons Gets Hit

Kingston, which garnered only seven hits in sweeping Saugerties Post last weekend for the county title, could get just a single off the sorves of left-hander Mike Brennan. Catcher Frank Sammons averted the embarrassment of a no-hitter by singling sharply to right in the fourth inning. The hit aided in scoring the final run and followed a walk to Sam Janeczek.

On the play, Janeczek scored, all the way from first when second sacker Herb Phillips botched up the relay.

Phillips opened the door at the outset for three tainted tallies which hauled Kingston in front to stay. After Brennan walked two of the first three batters, George Uhl hit what appeared to be a double play ball at Phillips. The second baseman picked it up cleanly enough but heaved it wild into left field and both runners scored and Uhl landed on second. Later a passed ball and wild pitch got him across.

Bob Beadle, also a southpaw, flipped a tidy four-hitter to register the win. Unlike Brennan, who lost because of a combination of poor fielding (four errors) and wildness (six walks), Beadle was steady throughout and received air-tight support.

Beadle had three rough innings, two in which Rensselaer scored. In the second, Brennan singled, stole second and counted on a pair of ground outs.

Only Two Walks

Then in the fifth, Beadle issued his only two passes of the game which paved the way for the visitors' last marker. The walks came after two were down and were followed by Jim Fink's run-producing hit. Beadle got out of the jam by forcing the next batter to pop up.

Pinch-swinger Eddie Cramer dumped a double along the right field with one out in the last inning, but Beadle weathered the threat by getting the next two batters to close up shop.

Brennan struck out at least one batter in each inning and wound up with a total of 10. Beadle whiffed three.

Saratoga Driver Injured in Spill

Saratoga Springs, N. Y. July 27 (AP)—Driver Jimmy Morrill, 22, of Saratoga Springs was injured last night in a three-horse accident at Saratoga Raceway.

Morrill was thrown to the track when his horse, Lord Abbey, fell in the home stretch of the $2,000 Tupper Lake Trot.

Morrill was badly shaken and suffered a possible fracture of the hand.

Lord Abbey's stablemate, Colista Hanover, ran into the fallen horse and driver Fred LaRouché also as thrown from the sulky. Shelbyburne, driven by Jimmy Van Deusen, piled into the scramble.

Van Deusen suffered minor abrasions. LaRouché was not injured.

Dodgers Fail in 11th

Brooks Lose Valuable Ground As Other Contenders Triumph

(By The Associated Press)

For the moment, anyway, it looks as if all the contenders in that fantastic National League pennant brawl are a bunch of "old pros." All, that is, except the old pros themselves—Brooklyn's Dodgers.

Milwaukee, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Philadelphia all came through in the clutch as the battle rolled through four extra-inning games yesterday. The Brooks, taking their lumps away from chummy Ebbs Field, fell short and skidded to fourth with their third defeat in a row.

The Braves had to win to hold the lead, and they did—beating New York's Giants 6-3 on an 11-inning, three-run homer by Nippy Jones.

The Cardinals had to win to stay within three percentage points of Milwaukee, and they did—defeating Pittsburgh 4-3 as Al Dark singled with the bases loaded in the 10th.

The Redlegs had to win to stay only a game off the pace, and they did—blowing a 5-1 lead as the Dodgers gave it the big try, but coming back to win 6-5 in 11 innings on a two out single by Johnny Temple.

The Phillies, scrambling to stay alive, turned on the juice in the 10th to pick up two unearned runs that beat Chicago's Cubs 3-1, leaving the fifth-place Phils just a half game behind Brooklyn.

The American League race showed signs of coming alive, too, what with Jim Bunning two-hitting New York for a 3-2 victory. The Yankees have lost three in a row and five of seven to lead Chicago by three games. The White Sox, after losing 5-2 at Baltimore, came back to win the second game of a two-night doubleheader 1-0 on the two-hit pitching of Jim Wilson and Billy Pierce, who made his second relief appearance to save it.

Boston walloped Cleveland 10-1, with Ted Williams taking an undisputed hold on the batting lead again, and Washington beat Kansas City 3-2.

The Braves, after losing two in a row to the Phillies, got back to business with a punt by Del Crandall, a sacrifice and an intentional walk to Andy Pafko. Then along came Jones. The ex-Cardinal, back to the majors as a first base reserve after Joe Adcock broke a leg, walloped one of reliever Stu Miller's soft pitches to bust it up.

Gene Conley won it with a perfect three-inning relief job after Lew Burdette had been smacked for three home runs by Hank Sauer, starting pitcher Ruben Gomez and Ed Bressoud.

Willard Schmidt won his ninth in a row for a 9-1 record, coming in on relief of Lindy McDaniel after the Cards had tied the Braves 3-3 in the fifth inning on home runs by Ken Boyer and Don Blasingame. A pair of walks and a punt loaded the bases for Dark in the 10th against reliever Ron Kline, who lost his seventh in a row.

Freeman Starts Fireworks Cincinnati matched the Cards with three in a row as relief winner Herschel Freeman doubled twice out in the 11th against reliever Roger Craig, then sprinted home on Temple's hit. Ed Bailey's 15th homer had triggered a five-run fifth for the Redlegs against Sandy Koufax, but the Brooks battled back on Elmer Valo's two-run pinch homer in the eighth and a two-run single by Roy Campanella—on a two-out, 3-2 pitch—in the ninth.

Ed Bouchee, who was 3-for-4, doubled in the 10th for the Phils off loser Bob Rush (1-11) and scored as reliever Turk Lown threw wild on Stan Lopata's third, scored on Harry Anderson's single. Warren Hacker won it.

Bunning, the All-Star Game winner, had the Yankees hitless until Yogi Berra led off with a

Bolt Clings To Golf Lead

Baltimore, July 27 —Tommy Bolt had one of golf's most self-confident players and another fighting to make his first Ryder Cup team breathing down his neck to start today's third round in the Eastern Open.

Bolt went off with only a two-stroke lead over Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., and Fred Hawkins of El Paso.

Temperamental Tommy fell from 64 to par 72 yesterday and had a tough time to do that well on Mount Pleasant's 6,895-yard course to record a halfway total 136.

Ford, Masters champ and winner of more than $38,000, stayed consistently at 69 for the second time while Hawkins whipped out a 66 behind his opening 72 for their 138.

Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., was next in line with a total 139 strokes in the field of 96 remaining after those higher than 151 were eliminated yesterday.

Bream Fans 15 Giants Win In Ulster

Ted Bream struck out 15 in pitching D-D's Drive-In Giants to their fifth straight win yesterday, an 8-4 triumph over the Dodgers in the Town of Ulster Little League.

Bream permitted just three hits as the Giants boosted their second half lead.

Ricky Hessdorfer tripled and Carl Jones doubled for the losers. Ron Geisler had three hits for the Giants.

John Eccleston was the losing pitcher, allowing eight hits and fanning six.

Dartball League At Saugerties Seeks New Teams

New teams will have the opportunity to join the Saugerties Dartball League at the annual meeting Wednesday, 8 p. m., in the parish hall of Centerville Methodist Church, Route 212, it was announced by Virgil Finger, league president.

A few berths are open in the schedule and can be filled by any team which registers with league officials at the annual meeting and pays the league dues, Mr. Finger said.

Teams who have played last season must also be represented at the meeting and prepared to pay the league dues. Teams who do not register at this meeting cannot be placed on the 1957-1958 schedule which will be prepared next week.

Election of officers will also be held at the meeting. In addition to Mr. Finger, current officers are Robert Mower, vice-president and George Jorgensen, secretary-treasurer.

Representatives of new teams who wish additional information about joining the league may call Mr. Finger or Mr. Jorgensen.

Babe Ruth Finalists To Try Once Again

Amsterdam, July 27 (AP)—Schenectady and North Westchester go at it again today for the New York State Babe Ruth Baseball League championship.

The teams fought to a 6-6 deadlock last night in the scheduled seven innings of what was to be the championship final.

The game was called because of darkness.
